

SAFETY, HEALTH AND SECURITY POLICY

ALERT TODAY, ALIVE TOMORROW

Wacker Chemical Corporation is committed to the Safety, Health and Security of our employees, contractors, visitors, customers and to the public in general. We accomplish this by providing a safe and secure work environment.

Safety, Health, and Security must never be compromised for convenience, production output or customer demands; quality of life is first and foremost considered to be an integral part of our daily business.

To ensure continual improvement, WACKER will provide employee training, feedback and motivation based on the Responsible Care® Management System principles and periodic monitoring of Safety, Health and Security performance.

WACKER complies with all relevant Health, Safety and Security laws, regulations and other requirements in all of its operations at all facilities.

WACKER ensures that employees are properly informed and continually trained in Health, Safety and Security awareness, and encourages employees to help improve Health and Safety practices.

It is the responsibility of each and every employee to know, understand and diligently practice our Safety, Health and Security policies and practices.
